HEART OF THE FARM – WOMEN IN AGRICULTURE ‘COFFEE CHAT’ SERIES

It’s the most wonderful time of the year, right? Unfortunately, it doesn’t always feel that way. The 2nd online session of the Heart of the Farm-Women in Agriculture online Coffee Chats will be featuring some quick self-care tips to take care of both your mind and body during the holidays. This online series will be held on Monday, December 14th, 10:00-11:00 a.m.

The Heart of the Farm-Women in Agriculture online Coffee Chats series is a University of Wisconsin-Madison Division of Extension program that addresses the needs of farm women by providing education on farm business topics, connecting them with agricultural resources and creating support networks. The hour long series will run on the 2nd Monday of each month through March 8th, 2021.

There is no charge for attending the series but you must register at:

<https://uwmadison.zoom.us/meeting/register/tJltceirrzkvEtfMSLLlJrhSjFMymAHHUA4>.

Once registered, you will receive an email confirmation containing information about joining the meeting. Registered participants will only need the meeting website link or phone number to participate in the meeting.

Jackie Carattini, Nancy Vance and Lori Zierl are Human Development and Relationship Educators with the University of Madison, Division of Extension. All three of them work with families and communities to improve family well-being and community awareness in the areas of family economics, poverty awareness, health and nutrition education.

Other speakers during the series will be: January 11th, Gary Sipiorski, owner Gary Sipiorski Consulting, LLC (Tax Preparation Issues and Concerns); March 8th, Mark Stephenson, Director of Dairy Policy Analysis and Center for Dairy Profitability and the University of Wisconsin-Madison, Division of Extension (How to Read and Understand your Milk Check,); and March 8th, Jenny Gavin, Gavin Farms, Reedsburg, WI (Value Added Enterprises and Farm Diversification.).

The Heart of the Farm-Women in Agriculture Conference series is a University of Wisconsin-Madison Division of Extension program that addresses the needs of farm women by providing education on farm business topics, connecting them with agricultural resources and creating support networks.
